As the volume level rose, Christina tried once again to convince her group that she was right about how Guatemala should try to increase tourism. "We can't focus so much on the history and the jungle! We should show more on our website about the other reasons! How about the beaches — remember that chart we saw about how warm the weather is in winter? Or the low prices — remember the exchange rate?"

curriculum materials from the National Academy Foundation and According to teachers who have implemented the project. They get feedback and have more choice in their work. The report also notes that her research shows that students do high-quality work when they are adults from outside the classroom. Their audience and their

Steps for Scaling and Sustaining PBL

1. Narrow down your definition of HQPBL--> Just do ONE thing well
2. Lay the foundation--> Standards, authenticity, assessment
3. Give it a whirl!
4. Girl, reflect your face!
5. Look at student work
6. Did I mention reflect?--> Refine
